WASHINGTON, Jan. 14, 1866.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE UPON SUMNER IN THE SENATE.

It was my happiness to be in the Senate this morning long enough to see Senator Sumner completely floored. He rose to rebuke Secretary McCullough, (who, by the by, was present,) for daring to appoint assessors and collectors of the revenue in the South, who had not taken, and could not take the test oath, thus setting aside a law of Congress, or "dispensing" with it, as Sumner phrased it. This enormity Senator Sumner wished to "bring before the country," and in closing his remarks, he complacently assumed that he had effected his object. He then (as usual) glanced round the galleries for approving female smiles, and resumed his seat.

And thereafter, Senator Davis stood up and stated his entire satisfaction that the Senator from Massachusetts should declare that the officers of the Government should obey the laws; but he wanted to know how many times Sumner had declared in the Senate that he never would obey the Fugitive Slave Act; how many times public officers in Massachusetts had set aside that law; and how often, under the plea of military necessity, during the last four years, the laws of the land had been frequently dispensed with, with Senator Sumner's full approval? These questions completely dumb-founded the Adonis of the Senate. He pretended to read a morning journal, nervously turning over the newspaper, and no doubt turning over a reply in his mind. But he replied not a single word. Indeed, like the historical small boy, he had nothing to say.

STRIPPED OF HIS EPAULETTS.

Among the mustered out was "Brevet Brigadier" Detective L. C. Baber. It is known that his discharge was ordered by the President, who, not many months ago, ordered this same Baker out of the White House, and told him not to show face or foot on those premises again. It is equally well known that the "divinity" of the War Office was desirous to retain the services of this detective, and loth to discharge him, especially as this discharge is only preliminary to the total disbandment of the entire detective force.

It is positively stated that Baker's discharge was not due to a willingness on the part of Stanton to dispense with the services of his "zealous and skillful instrument," but was in obedience to the "express command of the President;" and no stronger proof of the correctness of this statement is necessary than that Forney's Chronicle editorially denies it.

Baker goes into retirement a "Brevet Brigadier," but not a beggar. If he takes his chains and hand-cuffs with him he is rich—in old iron, anyhow. He carries, too, the undying friendship of Stanton and the whole school of free-speech suppressing, public-press squelching, and telegraph-tapping tyrants of the Radical party. Moreover, the committee appointed by Stanton to award the sums offered for the capture of Davis and the killing of Booth, will not overlook Baker. It is said that the lion's share—full two-thirds of the whole amount—will go to Baker. The Radicals owe him that much, at least.

HIGH ART AT THE CAPITOL.

The fresco painting on the dome of the Capitol was wholly revealed to-day by the removal of the scaffold on which the painters have been at work for the past eighteen months. The painting is both allegorical and diabolical, and is said to have cost $50,000. It may be styled "high art," since it is about one hundred and eighty feet from the floor of the rotunda. The scene reveals a hazy procession of heathen divinities—Ceres, Neptune, Mars, Mercury, (who appropriately appears in a "blue mass" of cloud-coloring) and other gods. The goddess of Liberty, with a flaming sword, pursues the American eagle in full flight, as if she meant to commit another Fourth of July outrage upon the much abused "bird o' freedom"; and the procession culminates in a center group of Justice, Law, Washington, and other distinguished individuals. Franklin's, and one or two more well-known faces, are portrayed, but I failed to find Stanton among the other "divinities" By some oversight, too, the form of the "Second Washington" is omitted. I may fail to appreciate this work of art, though I confess that it classes well with the hideous mass of plaster just set up in the old Representatives' chamber, which no one need be informed is the frightful original of that frightful figure which surmounts the dome of the Capitol, and which may have been set up with its face to the east as a national scarecrow to warn the cholera not to venture upon our premises.

SINGULAR GIFT AND MESSAGE TO SENATOR SUMNER.

Late on Saturday night as a telegraph boy was entering the private rooms of Senator Sumner with a dispatch, he stumbled upon a paper box which had been placed against the door, and neatly addressed to Mr. Sumner, containing a full length human finger, neatly wrapped up and covered by the following suggestive note, which we give as worded and spelled:

"You old son of a ——, I send you a piece of one of your friends, and if that bill of yours passes I will have a piece of you.

A UNION MAN."

The finger must have been very recently cut close from the hand of a negro or mulatto.—These "reconstruction" demonstrations are becoming quite too frequent to improve the temper of Congress towards those who now openly boast that they have done, and would again with any shew of success, all in their power to dismember this government.

OFFICIAL PATRONAGE WITHDRAWN.

Secretary Stanton has directed that all War Department advertising be withdrawn from the Intelligencer and Constitutional Union newspapers, and that it be withheld from them in future.

LABORERS FROM ABROAD.—We learn that General Daniel Ruggles is about organizing a scheme for obtaining foreign labor for the South on a large scale, and with this view will visit New York in order to practically develope his scheme. It is proposed to furnish white labor at the lowest cost price—ranging between $50 and $150 per annum, according to qualifications and skill. District agents have been, and are to be appointed in several localities in Virginia, and as soon as the work of emigration fairly sets in, agencies will be appointed in States South, extending to Texas.—Richmond Examiner.

Desirable Farm for Sale.

THE PLANTATION SITUATED ABOUT TWO and a half miles from the village of Magnolia on the Wilmington and Weldon R. R, between that place and Kenansville, and known as "Barbacue," is offered for sale. The tract contains 360 acres, 160 of which are cleared and have been under cultivation, producing excellent Corn, Wheat, potatoes, &c. A portion of the land is also well adapted to the culture of cotton. An inexhaustible bed of Marl, a large spring of as good water as can be found in the State, and a never failing stream, running through the center of the cleared land, are among the attractions of the place.

The timbered portion of the land being nearest the Rail Road, and the entire place being easy of access to a first rate market, make it a highly desirable location for growing produce, raising stock and selling timber. Any one having the cash, can procure a bargain by applying immediately to

Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,

OR

BONE MANURE.

WARRANTED GENUINE.

BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise, and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquired.

We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufaced, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although furnished at half the price.

Messrs B. H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:

"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E. F Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime for four years—It has given unive sal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, an the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.

"We could state that, after careful examination, we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing.

"Very respectfully,

"R. H. ALLEN & CO.,
No. 191 Water street, New York."

IMPORTANT SALE.

ON WEDNESDAY, THE 24TH OF JANUARY, 1866, I shall offer for sale, my plantation in Bertie County, lying on the Roanoke River, three miles from Hill's Ferry on said river, and six from the village of Woodville in Bertie County containing 1000 acres, more or less; 500 acres cleared and well adapted to the growth of cotton, corn, wheat, &c.

There is a very fine opportunity to make a large cotton crop on the plantation the next year, as there is compost enough ready made to manure nearly 100 acres. The plantation made in 1861, 43,000 pounds of lint cotton, and 4,000 bushels of corn; and, with proper management, will do great deal better for the next year, as the most of the cotton land has had rest for the past two years. A very great advantage which this farm has, is its convenience to transportation, being only one mile to a good landing on the river, where there is a regular line of steamers to Norfolk weekly. In addition to the above, this is the only river farm in this portion of the county that has fire wood enough, conveniently for use; there is an abundance here, and timber of almost every kind, cypress, oak, hickory, ash gum, &c. Lumber dealers would do well to examine the land before the day of sale.

There are about 400 or 500 acres on this tract uncleared, which affords a fine range for hogs and a free access to number less acres of uncultivated lands renders it very profitable for the raising of cattle, colts, &c.

The improvements consist of a gin house and cotton a few, overseer's house, cabins enough for 25 or 30 laborers, corn barns &c. At the same time and place, I shall sell 200 or 300 barrels of corn, fodder, mules, horses, hogs, farming utensils, &c.

Terms for the land one third cash, the balance in two equal instalments, payable respectively on 12 and 18 months, and title withheld until payments made. For the perishable property, cash.

For any further particulars, address the subscriber at Enfield Halifax county, N.

C. CLARK.

NOTICE.

BY VIRTUE OF A DECREE OF THE COURT OF Pleas and Quarter Sessions of Craven county, December Term, 1865, I will sell, at Public Sale, to the highest bidder, on the 24th day of January next, the EGYPT PLANTATION, belonging to the Estate of Benj. F. Biddle, deceased, containing 1,300 acres.

It is situated on the South side of Neuse river, and immediately on the river, 20 miles above Newbern, and is one of the best farms on the river for the production of Cotton, Corn, Peas, and other crops usually grown in this section of the State.

A credit of 12, 18 and 24 months will be given, and bonds with satisfactory security required. The sale will be made at the farm.

SAM'L L. BIDDLE,
Adm'r of Benj. F. Biddle, deceased.
Dec 19. 112 tds.

Select School.

MISS M. MITCHELL AND MRS. E. N. GRANT, Propose receiving into their family, as pupils, a few young ladies. Terms made known on application by letter or otherwise. The next session will commence January 15th, 1866.

Chapel Hill, Nov. 11-81-tf.

COOKE'S HOTEL

IS open, and those who are travelling and wish comfortable quarters and good eating, stop at Cooke's. My terms will be as moderate as possible for the times. You will always find conveyance at the depot to take you to either of the Hotels in this City; but be sure to inquire for Cooke's, where you will get good lodging, good eating, mineral water to drink, and a pipe to smoke if you wish it.

I will be prepared to accommodate 15 or 20 members of the approaching Convention.

GEO. T. COOKE.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL,
SEATON GALES, } Editors.

Friday, January 19, 1866.

OUR TERMS.

THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

For Daily, per year,	$10 0
" six months,	5 00
" one month,	1 00
" two months	2 00
Semi-Weekly per year,	5 00
Weekly per year,	3 00

Our terms are invariably in advance. The Weekly and Semi-weekly will be issued about the first of January. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

THE PEOPLE must be trusted with their Government, and if trusted, my opinion is that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union.—Andrew Johnson's Letter to Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

Personal.

The official duties of the Associate Editor, as Clerk of the House of Commons, will preclude his active connection with the Sentinel during the session of the Legislature. At its expiration, he will resume the association which, thus far, has been so pleasantly conducted.

Weekly Sentinel.

We shall issue the Weekly Sentinel next week. The delay in issuing it has been occasioned by various causes.

The Legislature.

This body could not proceed to business on yesterday, for the want of a quorum in the House. Both Houses will no doubt have a quorum to-day. The members from remote sections and cut off from mail facilities will doub less be unable to reach here in several days yet, but a good working number will be present to-day, and both Houses, we trust, will be ready to commence, in good earnest, the business of the session.

We invoke, on behalf of their constituency, the exhibition of an earnest, prudent, working spirit on the part of the members, that the important matters, which claim their attention, may be disposed of as soon as the nature of the case will admit.

Matters in North Carolina.

We have devoted to-day considerable space on our fourth page, to a letter which we find in the National Intelligencer, written by a gentleman connected with the Freedmen's Bureau in this State. We desire to express our thanks to the writer, in behalf of the people of the State, for the facts and views therein expressed, as more nearly coming up to the truth in regard to the real state of things in the State, than we remember to have seen from the pen of any Northern gentleman who has been among us.—We cannot doubt, however, that these views would be very generally endorsed by Col. Whittlesey and Col. Clapp, and, perhaps, by all of the officers connected with the Bureau.

In what Major Lawrence says of the feelings of our people, we are confident he expresses nothing but the truth. He speaks the real feelings of the masses, derived from frequent intercourse with them, and does not form his conclusions, like many others, from the occasional ebullitions of feeling which manifest themselves in a heated newspaper paragraph, or the expressions of many who cannot but feel chagrined at the disappointment and ruin which has befallen their cherished hopes. Were all our people to exhibit the dastard and unmanly spirit which marks the conduct of the spaniel, which licks the wound inflicted and fawns upon him who administered it, the North might well write us down as degenerate scions of our fathers and the vilest hypocrites and cowards.

"Unionism in North Carolina."

We do not exchange with the Washington Chronicle, and were not aware, until the present, that the article upon which we animadverted the other day, as coming from that paper, was not an editorial, but an extract from a letter written by a North Carolinian, urging the claims of the so-called Union-men of this State to the special consideration of the radical majority in Congress.

Office, under any circumstances, is a sine qua non—the summum bonum of all good, in the estimation of some people. To obtain it, they will sacrifice any little personal reputation they have with the ins, so they can gain favor with the ins. The radicals in Congress are the ins, and hence the anxiety of those who desire their favor, to be written down in their category of loyal or Union men, even at the sacrifice of their own consistency. Men who prize truth and consistency, above office or promotion, utterly abhor such resorts.

Supreme Court.

His Honor Judge Reade was qualified on yesterday. Hon. Richmond M. Pearson was appointed Chief Justice. The appointment of Reporter was postponed until the June term.

Gen. Robt. D. Johnson, of Mecklenburg, is admitted to practice law in the County Courts.

Senator from Orange.

We were pleased to observe, on yesterday, that our old friend, Capt. John Berry, qualified as the Senator from Orange, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Gov. Graham. Captain B. is well known as an excellent working member of either House.

LIFE OF ASHBY.—Rev. Jas. B. Averett, formerly of Goldsboro in this State, and late chaplain to Ashby's command, has issued a prospectus for the publication of the life of the intrepid partizan leader, "Ashby, and his compeers." The book will be illustrated by lithographic portraits, and will cost $2.

The Mails.

We continue to receive complaints of the failure of the Sentinel to reach our subscribers in time. A friend at Newbern says that it is sometimes two or three days old when it reaches that place. It ought to reach there regularly on the day of its publication. It is sent to the Post Office here regularly, several hours before the departure of the mail.

If we had control of the mails, &c., we would set matters right quickly. Mr. Vassal, and the P. M. General, we learn, are doing their utmost to regulate matters.

QUICK DISPATCH.—We learn that, during the past week, the house of Whitford, Dill, & Co., at Newbern, loaded and sent off two ocean steamers, one by way of the canal, and two sailing schooners, filled with cotton, naval stores, flax-seed, tobacco, &c. This is good work for a week.

QUALIFIED.—Judge Barnes, of the first District, took the oaths of office on Wednesday last. Judge Shipp, we learn, was qualified before a regular Justice of the Peace, in Lincoln, a few days ago.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Dr. J. E. Douthit offers for sale valuable property and a good location for a physician.

Thos. L. Maner offers desirable property in the County of Halifax for sale.

C. B. Champion, also, offers eligible real estate in the town of Henderson.

J. M. Towles announces attractive auction sales.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

SENATE.

THURSDAY MORNING, Jan. 18th, 1865.

At 12 o'clock, Mr. Speaker Settle called the Senate to order.

The roll was called and the following Senators answered to their names:

Messrs. Speaker, Arendell, Aycock, Black, Blount, Boner, Bullock, Bynum, Coward, Donaho, Ferebee, Garner, Gorrell, Hall, Harris of Rutherford, Howard, Jones of Columbus, Leach of Davidson, McEachern, McLean, Morehead, Pitchford, Sanders, Shober, Whitford, Wiggins, Williams, Wilson.—28.

The Proclamation of the Governor calling the Legislature together was read.

Mr. Berry, Senator from Orange, presented his credentials and was qualified.

It was moved that a message be sent to the House, informing them that a quorum being present; the Senate is prepared to go into business. Not having a quorum the House could not organize.

Mr. Howard moved the Senate adjourn until to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, and it was agreed to.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THURSDAY, Jan. 18th, 1866.

The House was called to order at 12 o'clock M., by Mr. Speaker Phillips in the chair.

The Proclamation of His Excellency, Governor Worth, convening the Assembly, was read by the Clerk.

At roll call but 57 members answered to their names—61 being the number necessary to a quorum.

Mr. Stilley, of Beaufort, presented the credentials of his colleague, Hon. R. S. Donnell, who, appearing, was qualified.

On motion of Mr. Waugh, the House adjourned until 11 o'clock to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, January 15.

THE RADICALS AND THE PRESIDENT—FIRMNESS OF THE PRESIDENT, &c.

It is understood that another delegation of Radicals have visited the President to convince him of the error of his policy, but the Executive was very determined in the utterance of his views, and entirely consistent with what he has heretofore expressed—in fact their visitations cannot but be offensive. The President is not a subject for proselytism. Sagacious men think that the body of the Radicals have determined to be unyielding.

The position of Mr. Kason, of Iowa, in favour of qualified negro suffrage, as indicated by his speech in the House to-day, is important, as he is one of the ablest men in that body.

Inaugural of the Governor of New Jersey.

TRENTON, January 16.—The inaugural address of Governor Ward recommends the adoption by the State of the Constitutional amendment prohibiting slavery. The people, he says, have in the election spoken in favor of it, and he knows that the legislature will gladly pass it. He returns his thanks to the soldiers, and recommends action for the welfare of those who became disabled in the country's service. He is opposed to anything like repudiation and expresses faith in the patriotism and fidelity of the President.

A letter from New York says:

"Already we know that the Chilians have succeeded in capturing a Spanish man-of-war and several launches, and the public will be astonished to hear that two vessels, a steamer and tender, have left this port for the Chilian coast, manned and equipped by Americans, loaded with torpedoes, intended for use in the destruction of the Spanish fleet."

Surely this is a slander on those scrupulous people who breathed such furious threats against England for allowing Confederate cruisers to fit out in her ports.

Protest of Ladies against Pardon.

The President had a visit on Saturday afternoon from a committee of ladies, headed by Mrs. Senator Trumbull, in all about two hundred and fifty, who presented a petition and vehemently urged him to reject the application for pardon of R. S. Cox, of Georgetown, late of the Rebel army. These ladies are of a society entitled the National Colored Home Association.—They state that Cox is a large land holder in that District, and their society has erected on his lands buildings in which are housed a large number of helpless colored people, and they ask that if Cox be pardoned at all, it should be on condition that he give to their association ten acres of land and the buildings thereon, now occupied by this association.

This is a sample brick of Jacobinism. Madame Trumbull and Company protest against Mr. Cox's pardon, not on account of anything he has done, but because they have got his property and want to keep it!

Capt. Wilcox, of the Freedman's Bureau, in this town, has issued an order that all freedmen and women who shall be found after the 20th inst., without certificates showing that they have employment for the current year, will be taken up and treated as vagrants, according to the vagrant laws of the State. Children liable to become a tax to the public are to be bound out until they are 21 years of age.—Danville Times.

The Usury Laws.

It is hard for the wheel to leave a deep-worn rut. It is hard for men, and especially for legislators, to abandon old ideas and prescriptions. The travelled track may no longer be safe. It may have worn through, or it may have became obstructed, or some temporary necessity may demand a temporary divergence; but many will encounter all these difficulties sooner than forsake the beaten way.

We cannot account, except upon supposition of the sway of this habit, for the extreme reluctance, nay, the stubborn opposition, manifested to such modification of our usury laws as the circumstances of the times demand. Capital was never so much needed among us, and yet was never before so scarce. The times are exceptional in an extraordinary degree; and yet for want of the wisdom or the courage to adapt our laws to the occasion, we are doing nothing to accommodate ourselves to the altered circumstances. Other States which need capital far less than we, are doing far more to attract it. Nay, the very capital that is in our midst is tempted abroad, by the greater returns offered for the use of it. A citizen of Virginia with five thousand dollars to lend—if we may suppose such a case without offence to probability—would find it to his advantage to send it to New York to be loaned, rather than to Richmond, because New York is paying a higher interest.

In such a state of things it is evident that although Virginia is a monetary vacuum, it is not such a vacuum as "nature abhors." There is no wish to fill it. There is no flow of capital hither. On the contrary, the drain is in the other direction. New York, which is the great centre of capital in this country, is likewise the sea towards which the streams all flow. We do our part, here in Virginia, to swell the tide of wealth that pours into Gotham. We are requiring our money-lenders to send their means to New York for investment, under penalty of two per cent. per annum if they retain them here. The effect upon our monetary affairs is necessarily disastrous. We need money far more here than it is needed in New York, but it will not come here. It will not stay here. For many of the purposes that press upon us, we could afford to pay more for money than can be afforded in New York. The horse that is to plough the ground, the seed that is to sprout the harvest, the fence that is to protect the ground, are better procured at double price, than not obtained at all. The property that is unproductive for want of repairs, not a fifth or tenth of its value, may well pay a high interest for the needed sum, rather than lie waste. There are numberless cases in our present prostrate condition, in which it would be far better to have a little money at a high price than not to have it at all.

We know it is argued that there are many branches of business that cannot afford a higher rate of interest than six per cent.; and the farming community are often specially named in this connection. But there are several answers to this. All articles of produce are higher than ever before, and an advance in interest would only correspond to the advance in everything else. Nobody would be compelled to borrow if his interests on the whole did not justify it. It is better to pay a higher interest for a time, than to pay enormous advances in credit prices, or be compelled to leave one's farm wholly untilled and desolate.

But it is to be remembered that restricting the rate of interest does not guarantee loans at the specified rate, it only tends to make loans impossible. It forces no man to lend money, it only tends to drive money away. It aims to protect citizens from high rates, but it tends to put all rates out of their option.

What is the practical operation of this attempted restriction of the rate of interest, below what it brings elsewhere, and what it would bring in open market? It greatly diminishes the capital for loan, and thus greatly increases the quest and the demand for it. This enables the lender to demand and to obtain the most enormous rates;—five per cent. a month, or a hundred per cent. per annum, or whatever sum avarice and monopoly may suggest, and while thus fleecing the unhappy borrower, he lays the blame upon the law, which makes his loans hazardous, and obliges him to charge "something for the risk." It is thus that the law against usury protects those whose business requires the use of money, at whatever price!—It is thus, that in attempting to make a cheaper market for money hire, than obtains where money is in greater supply, it hands over citizens, bound hand and foot, to the mercies of the extortioner.

Well may the borrower say, save me from my friends, if such be their friendly service! That such is the operation of the six per cent. prescription at this time, there can be no doubt. It keeps money away, and forces it to be sought through tortuous and demoralizing devices, and on ruinous terms. Why not, under our circumstances of peculiar distress, try here the experiment, which has worked so happily as a permanent system elsewhere? Why not give Richmond, if but for a season, something of the same facilities for building its waste places, which have covered Manhattan Island with palaces? If the Legislature cannot give positive help to a suffering people, it may, at least, remove fatal impediments. It may take away the shackles which our wasted limbs can no longer support.

The proposition to allow a rate of interest not exceeding ten per cent. if agreed upon by contract—in all other cases, six per cent. to be charged as at present—is one to which there can be no valid objection—none which has not been exploded by the actual experience of other States. Its adoption, while it would allow an increase in the nominal rate of interest, would diminish incalculably the sums now actually paid for interest in the various circuitous forms, and would secure to our people these monetary accommodations of which we are now in most urgent need. Who can deny a coveted relief, and condemn a deeply suffering people to unnecessary inflictions.—Richmond Sentinel.

WHITE LABOR.—The Newbern Times says: Messrs. Wm. H. Oliver & Co., received an order last week from a wealthy planter in Wayne county to purchase a large quantity of blankets, mattresses, and sheets for the use of a force of immigrants daily expected to cultivate the gentleman's plantation. The order was filled at once.

Lieut. Gen. Longstreet.

For the information of the many admirers of this distinguished gentleman, as well as for those of the old Confederate soldiers who served in his celebrated corps during the war, we will state that we were informed on yesterday, that he had entered into the commission and wholesale grocery business in the city of New Orleans, and the name of the firm was Longstreet, Owens & Co. He deserves and doubtless will meet with much success.—Wilmington Dispatch.

OUR MINERAL WEALTH.—A National Convention will be held in New York in the early part of March, the object of which is to secure a grand, spontaneous effort, on the part of the Government and people of the United States, to promote the development of one of the greatest branches of our national industry—the mining and mineral resources of the country.—Rich. Examiner.

HAMPSHIRE COAL.

CARGO OF 275 TONS HAMPSHIRE COAL DAily expected from Baltimore.

This coal is bituminous, and perhaps the best coal known for steam purposes, whether for locomotives or steamboats. It is used almost exclusively by Northern railroad companies and the Cunard Steamers. It is also represented as the best blacksmith's coal in the country, and is very extensively used in iron works for forging, etc. It is soft and friable, the fine coal being as good for use as the lump.

The attention of railroad companies, iron works and machine shops, is particularly invited to the importance of a trial of this coal.

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the Hampshire and Baltimore Coal Company, will be prepared to furnish any quantity required, at a reasonable price.

Orders respectfully solicited.

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING.

THE UNDERSIGNED RESPECTFULLY ANnounce to the public that they have formed a copartnership for the purpose of carrying on the

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING BUSINESS,

in all its branches.

Each member of the firm is a practical printer, and, with an experience of twenty years each, they confidently appeal to the people of their native State for a liberal share of patronage.

They have one of the Largest Printing Establishments

in the State, and execute their own work, which, for neatness and cheapness, cannot be excelled in the South.

The senior member of the firm has been for a number of years Superintendent of the Printing Office of the North Carolina Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind which has always sustained a high reputation for neat and tasty printing.

They are prepared to execute, at short notice,

DAILY SENTINEL.

Friday, January 19, 1866.

Whither is Society Drifting?

There is a great outcry in the United States, in France and in England, against the lax morality of this age; and gentle woman, who enchants alike "saint, savage and sage," is accused of being at the bottom of the mischief. The most powerful civilizing and refining agent is true womanhood. It was woman, true woman, with her modesty and virtue, that inspired the knights of a nobler age, when commerce had not corrupted and Puritanism had not hardened the hearts of men. The true knight worshipped woman, and was sworn to protect and rescue all damsels in distress. As far back even as the beginning of the sixth century, when the good King ARTHUR reigned, or is fabled to have reigned, in Britain, he is represented by the poets to have founded his famous order of the "Knights of the Round Table," who, when they received the accolade, were sworn among other oaths and obligations—

"To ride abroad redressing human wrongs,
To speak no slander; no, nor listen to it;
To lead sweet lives in purest chastity;
To love one maiden, only cleave to her.
And worship her by years of noble deeds,
Until they won her."

The days of chivalry have passed. Trade and ascetic Puritanism have revolutionized everything. True manhood has lost its noblest embellishments, and true womanhood many of its enchanting graces. There are none now, in this stern, cold, money-making, and yet luxurious age, to rescue damsels in distress and to deliver them from their oppressors and seducers. Many of them seem, indeed, if we may credit what we read and hear, not to desire to be rescued. If men go about roaring like lions seeking to devour them, they appear to place themselves in their way for the very purpose of being devoured. They would appear indeed to resort to all their arts, and to employ all their charms and fascinations to tempt men to forbidden pleasures. What mean those fearful enchantresses that we read of in Paris—the Lorettes—whose faultless and exquisite costume is the envy of the ladies, and whose charms intoxicate the men? What mean those crowds of dancing girls that appear in all the opera houses and theatres of London? What mean those troops of girls who appear every night from the Alhambra Palace, in Leicester square; to the Agricultural Hall, at Islington, to exhibit themselves "encumbered with as little clothing as possible," (to use the language of the London Review), before a crowd of spectators? It is not the "poetry of motion," says the Review—"They are simply prurient to the depraved, and to the undepraved disgusting.—Sensuality alone, and that of the coarsest, is stimulated and indulged by advertisements which particularly insist upon the "loveliness of the performers, and by sights which, within the limits of decent language, are indescribable.—Already our noblest matrons have found reason to complain that their sons openly display their intimacy with the Anonymas, who exhibit their horse-breaking abilities in Hyde Park; and even their high-bred daughters form the style of their conversation on such vicious and vulgar models."

What mean the voluptuous, almost indecent dances that are coming into vogue, beside which the waltz, which was tabooed by our grandmothers and mothers, is most scrupulously modest?

What means the army of "pretty waiter girls" in their partnership of sin with the keepers of saloons in the Northern cities?

These things all mark a fearful moral declension—a most fatal lapse from virtue—the inauguration of a general demoralization—an approaching era of criminal and licentious luxury.

The world is bad enough at best—when all the influences of woman, with her gifts of beauty, and her modesty and virtue are employed to restrain man from vicious courses, and to elevate and refine him. How must it be when female beauty and wit are used to decoy him into the paths of debauchery and vice—when at every door sits a temptress to witch him with her loveliness and to allure him by her arts?

Adam fell through the temptings of his wife; the sons of Adam are beset by legions of the tempting daughters of Eve. Their virtue will scarcely prove superior to his.

The fruits of all this may be seen in shocking statistics like the following: In Paris, one in every twenty-five of the females met on the streets is an abandoned woman; in New York, one in every twenty-five; in Chicago, one in every thirty-seven. Such are statistics that have lately fallen under our attention. For their correctness we cannot answer. They are, however, given as the results of a careful calculation.

What are we all coming to? Where and how is this all to end? With sin at the helm, and beauty at the prow, society is in full sail, propelled by wind and current. Scylla is one side, Charybdis on the other, and Syrens are all round.—Richmond Whig.

ARRIVAL OF EMIGRANTS.—We noticed the arrival yesterday, by S. S. Raleigh, of fifty-two German Emigrants, composed of men, women and children, who were brought out to this country by Messrs. F. W. Foster & Co, Land and Emigrant agents, and intended for laborers on the plantation of Mr. T. C. McIlhenny, about four miles from this place. This being the first importation of the kind, the people are naturally anxious to see how this white labor system will work, but we believe that the majority of the planters favor it. The reason that they have not taken steps early to procure these white laborers, may be imputed to its being an entirely new thing in this part of the country, and of course there is some timidity and fearfulness as to the favorable results of a system so totally different from their previous experience in such matters. But now that the "ice has been broken" and steps have been taken to establish white laborers in the South, we think that others will soon follow, and our farmers will have that aid and assistance which they have been so much in need of for some time past. Any person wishing to receive the services of these emigrants, as laborers, will be accommodated as speedily as possible, by leaving their orders with Messrs. F. W. Foster & Co., No. 71 Market street, (up stairs,) in this place.—Wil. Journal.

We understand that the arrest of two or more of the murderers of Thos. Pickett was made yesterday. These parties, we learn, are negroes, and were formerly owned by Mr. Samuel N. Cannon. The authorities who have this matter in charge, certainly deserve credit for the vigilance and energy which they have shown in ferreting out the perpetrators of this horrible murder, and we hope soon to hear of some of them undergoing the punishment which their crime so richly merits.—Wil. Journal.

REV. SOLOMON POOL, A. M.—This gentleman, who has for several years filled the position of Tutor in Mathematics and Secretary to the Faculty of the University of North Carolina, has been elected to the Professorship of Mathematics in Trinity College.

On the 5th instant, Lagrange, Georgia, was visited by a destructive fire. All the east side of the Public Square was burnt but the buildings on the North and South corners.

General News.

GENERAL GEORGE W. RANDOLPH.—The friends of General George W. Randolph, says the Sentinel, will be gratified to learn that he is in excellent health, and is now residing in England in a pleasant rural cottage, about forty miles from Liverpool. It will be remembered that General Randoph left the Confederacy about four months previous to the surrender, in a deplorable state of health, with a view to restore it. He was attended by his wife, who is still with him.

Gov. Patton, of Alabama, had a recent interview with Gen. Thomas, and informed the Huntsville Advocate that most of the troops in that State will soon be withdrawn; that arms will be furnished to the State militia, about 6,000 of whom have been organized into 103 companies, and that they will be called on to preserve order should any emergency arise.

A Committee from Charleston, South Carolina, are now in Baltimore looking into the steam fire department system, with a view to introduce it into their city.

Efforts are being made to send John C. Breckinridge to the United States Senate from Kentucky.

The Florida Senators, Wilkerson Call and Governor Marvin, have arrived at Savannah, on their way to Washington.

The schooner Retribution, formerly a Confederate privateer, fitted out at Wilmington, N. C., is reported ashore off Hatteras Inlet, with four of her crew frozen to death, hanging in the rigging. Her two pilots are thought to have been washed overboard and drowned.

In the State of South Carolina there are 48 Freedmen's schools in operation, attended by 6,000 pupils, and taught by 108 teachers, of whom 80 are from the North and 28 are Southerners.

The Wilson North Carolinian offers a copy, for one year, to every widow made so by the war, in the neighborhood.

Rev. Thomas J. Fisher, an eminent Episcopal clergyman of Louisville, Ky., who was attacked on the night of the 8th inst., and struck with a slung-shot, died on Thursday.

Mr. George Wilkins Kendall has returned to New Orleans, after an absence of seven years in Texas, and resumed the editorial chair in the Picayune office.

Miss Harriet Lane, who presided over the White House during the administration of her uncle, President Buchanan, was married on the 11th instant, at Wheatland, to Mr. Henry E. Johnston, a Baltimore banker.

Gen. S. B. Buckner has withdrawn from the editorial department of the New Orleans Crescent. He is now a member of the firm of Harlow J. Phelps & Co., of that city.

ERRONEOUS STATEMENT.—We have the very best authority for denying the declaration made in the House of Representatives, by the Hon. William D. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, that the President had assured him he would favor negro suffrage in the District of Columbia. The President has not, we have good reason to know, given any such intimation to any person whatever.—Washington Union.

Mrs. Stephen A. Douglas is soon to be married to Adjutant General Williams.

Judge Swan, of Tennessee, is organizing a colony of Georgians to go to Mexico.

Brigadier General Robert H. Anderson, late Confederate States Army, is Chief of the Police force at Savannah.

Many of the collections for freedmen go into the pockets of the collectors.

The papers say Mr. Bancroft has accepted an invitation. Did he ever decline one?

Insurance risks against burglars are now taken in New York.

Secretary Stanton and his friends are reported to be very much amazed at the discovery that there is a President. The War Department has heretofore been supreme in its authority and dictation.

Dr. Blackburn, of the yellow-fever plot notoriety, is now writing a series of medical articles for the Toronto (C. W.) Leader.

Gen. Hooker lies at his residence in New York completely paralyzed, being unable to read or write.

Secretary Stanton has directed that all War Department advertising be withdrawn from the Intelligencer and Constitutional Union newspapers, and that it be withheld from them in the future.

Daniel R. Goodloe has been confirmed by the Senate as marshal for North Carolina.

Among the names pardoned by the President is Jerome B. Frazel, of Onslow county, N. C.

Gov. Buckinham, Mayor Greene and other capitalists at Norwich, Conn., have formed a company with $50,000 capital to carry on the lumber business, principally at the South.

One of the British capitalists who visited this country, in a lecture in England recently, stated that General Grant intends to visit Europe in the spring.

Ex-Confed General Joe Johnston says that under the President's liberal policy the country will in four years be the most prosperous and powerful on earth.

Formerly, we sent 50,000 tons of rice to Europe, but since the war Europe sends heavily to us. The crop was everywhere lighter than usual, last year. North Carolina, whose annual product used to exceed 200,000 casks, raised but 7,000.

Gen. Beauregard is busy with the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad, of which he is Superintendent.

Mr. W. H. Stiles, President Polk's Charge d'Affairs to Vienna, and the author of a historical work on Austria, and formerly member of Congress from Georgia, died at Savannah on the 20th ult. He was a Colonel in the Confederate army.

As 60,000 oysters have been ordered for the Seventh Regiment ball in New York, a local print thinks it will be a roystering affair.

It is said that Ira Aldridge, the mulatto tragedian, will shortly play a series of engagements in this country.

Progress of Reconstruction.

[From the New York Tribune.]

We rejoice to learn that the good work of reconstruction is proceeding at the South with cheering rapidity. We say at the South, in contradistinction to what is doing at Washington; though we believe that there also all is going well. It was a happy idea of Congress to send the whole subject of reconstruction to a joint committee, clothing that committee with ample power. We trust that committee will persevere in keeping its own counsel, and will investigate thoroughly, fearlessly, deliberately. Let the two Houses meantime shut off debate on the main question, and let the country and all sections of it be patient, assured that a wise and safe conclusion will in due time be reached. We cannot doubt that all the Southern States will be represented in Congress before the close of this session.

But the real reconstruction is proceeding at the South—this at Washington being only the shadow. From every side we hail evidences of a growing accord between the whites and blacks, based on a consciousness that their interests are not antagonistic but identical. It is morally certain that all the fair to middling cotton that can be grown in 1866 may be sold at 25 to 30 cents per pound in gold, which affords a net profit of 15 to 20 cents. In other words, the labor of each able-bodied, experienced field-hand will produce, on the average, at least $500 worth of cotton; while the cost of hiring and feeding such field-hand will not average $250. Assuming that there are to-day one million negroes in the South who can be hired to make cotton, (and there are more than one million, but not all full hands,) the profit on their labor for the current year will be $250,000,000. Now there are many penniless ruffians and rowdies at the South, but they have not full sway there; while the more intelligent, reputable, property-holding class have all a deep stake in the establishment of mutual confidence and good will between whites and blacks. All this work, with some local interruptions, is rapidly proceeding.

We have received a copy of the regulations framed and adopted by the planters of Monroe county, Alabama, for the government of their dealings with the freedmen; and they evince a humanity and consideration which was signally wanting in those framed last spring by the landholders of several sections of old Virginia. They might be improved; but, considering that their authors were till lately slaveholders, and are dealing with those who were then their slaves, they are even commendable.

The Legislature of Tennessee, we are assured, will review its unwise action of last year and accord to the freedmen every civil right—such as to sue in courts, hold lands, give testimony, &c. And other Southern Legislatures will follow in the footsteps of this one.

Washington letters state that General Howard is in the receipt of letters from his subordinates in the Freedmen's Bureau throughout the South, showing an improved state of feeling between ex-masters and freedmen, and justifying sanguine hopes for the future. Hiring is brisk, and few blacks persist in idleness when offered pay for work. One of the despatches says:

"The Freedmen's Bureau is in receipt of a large number of reports from the South, showing that the negroes are commencing the new year in a satisfactory manner. General Wayne writes from Alabama that general improvement continues to be manifest. The demand for labor still exceeds the supply, and freedmen show a marked preference for living with Northern men, of whom there are about five thousand in the State. Those planters who ill-treated the freedmen last year find it almost impossible to secure labor during this, and some have been compelled to abandon their farms in consequence."

It is this latter class who get up negro insurrections on paper, and raise the reports that negroes will not work. The fact is, they refuse to work for those only whom they know as cruel and dishonest—and these are, after all, but a fraction. We have met scores of ex-slaveholders of late, and every one of them had found it easy to hire all the labor he wanted—generally that of his former slaves—at satisfactory prices. And every one of them obtained from his freedmen as much work as he required.

Let the South have time to realize that slavery is dead beyond the hope of resurrection, and she will come out all right. What she mainly needs are time, patience, and hearty good will.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the
The North Carolina Presbyterian
will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday, the 2nd of January next.
Confidently relying on the hearty support which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains or expense in the accomplishment of this purpose.
With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise, has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the Church, also, partake of the progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless in the working out of her own destiny?
To arouse the church to the importance and necessity of work; of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim In this we need assistance. We are not, alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; by contributions from the pen, by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all we hope for on earth.

DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

From the National Intelligencer.

The Freedmen of North Carolina.

The author of the following letter is an original and consistent abolitionist, a brother-in law of Chief Justice Pierpont, of Vermont, and brother of Judge Lawrence, of the Supreme Court of Illinois, and is consequently entitled to credit for the candid exposition contained therein:

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., December 14, 1865.

DEAR SIR: I venture to think that some account of the condition of things in North Carolina, within the sphere of my observation, may not be without interest to you. * *

* * After my transfer to the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, &c., I was ordered to this State, and assigned to duty in charge of Warren and Franklin counties. Warren, in proportion to its extent and population, was formerly one of the most wealthy counties in the State—its white population equal in intelligence and refinement to any of which I have ever had observation. The slave population was proportionably more numerous, I believe, than in any other county. The people had been almost unanimously in favor of secession. The county had rather a bad reputation at the State Bureau Headquarters when I was sent there, as regards the disposition of the people and their treatment of the blacks. There had been many reports in the Northern newspapers of gross outrages upon the blacks. Franklin county is much like Warren, having many characteristics of the latter in a less degree. I went to my district with my mind unfavorably prepossessed towards the people. I remained there nearly three months, when I was ordered to this place. In that interval, I think I met, personally, at least three-fourths of the planters and other citizens of Warren, and a large, though less number, in Franklin. The proportion of the freed people who sought my office in Warrenton, and whom I sought and talked to on the plantations, could hardly have been less. My office was rarely free from the presence of some of both classes. Having my own horses, I travelled about my district a great deal, to investigate the situation of affairs, assist in making just settlements, and try to inform the minds of the negroes as to their rights and responsibilities. I talked to them in a body on each plantation I visited, and listened to what they had to say. I accepted only such hospitalities—lavishly tendered—as were needful when travelling. The people, almost invariably are kind and generous to the negroes to a degree that the North will, I fear, be slow to credit.—They do not yet ask to be placed upon the footing of employers, and to do only what is just to the freedmen as laborers. They are forbearing and indulgent to their inexperience and ignorance. By the regulation of the Bureau, the freed people are considered entitled to pay for labor from the 27th of April last, and one-fourth of the main articles of the crop was fixed upon by Colonel Whittlesey as their just share in that district, where no contract or definite understanding existed as to payment. The laborers also had, of course, their rations, houses, fuel, &c. Most had also (I think nineteen in twenty) their own private "patches" of corn, producing ten to thirty bushels—potatoes, melons, peas, &c., and usually, chickens and hogs, from one to four or five in many instances. I very soon learned to tell, unerringly, which were the negroes' hogs upon a plantation. The proportion of the crop spoken of was given to those who did the labor. They were held liable to support their own families, reimbursing the planter from their own shares of the crop, if sufficient. Of course there were numbers on nearly every plantation—far more than the usual proportion, so many of the men had left—who were wholly a charge upon the planter, the old, the young, the sick and helpless, who had no one whose labor was justly chargeable for their support. Medical attendance could seldom be had, except at the planter's expense.—They are sadly impoverished, yet in the large majority of cases they voluntarily give to the laborers more than the Bureau required, while recognizing and meeting the heavy claims upon their humanity in behalf of the sick and helpless. Very few cases of hardship came to my knowledge from helpless persons having been driven off before I went there, or during my stay, and in most of these there seemed palliating circumstances in the misconduct of blacks or the destination of the whites; and so many cases of unselfish kindness, and real self-sacrificing generosity came to my notice, that I confess these late bitter rebels made me think better of human nature than I did before; and I do not know but my respect and regard for them make me too rather a favorable witness. They certainly feel no bitterness, or manifest none, toward the black race, for the change that has, without their instrumentality, been wrought in their condition, and for which they justly consider them to be in no way responsible.—Some are sanguine as to the future prosperity and elevation of the black race, many more doubtful and desponding both as to the blacks and themselves. All, of course, see that it depends upon the conduct of the freedman, and most would gladly aid, so far as they may, in influencing them aright. The desire to see them educated, I think, is general—certainly so with the better classes.

Now as to the negroes. They are ignorant and degraded—far below what I had supposed. I speak of the plantation hands, as a class.—Had they more of intelligence and moral cultivation, I should say they were vicious in the extreme. But they are so lacking in that which is the basis of moral accountability, that it may not be just to try them so. They are so far removed from their savage ancestry of one, two, or three generations back as the influences of a system directed chiefly to their rapid increase and the most profitable use of their mere muscular capacity, as its prime results would naturally bring about, being themselves strongly imitative, and brought in slight contact with civilization. I think they possess the characteristics of tropical races; that they are indolent, sensual, false, and, when aroused, cruel.—They are excitable, imaginative, and by nature brave. In a few years they will be the fittest material for a religious fanatic the world possesses; and another Mahomet may, perhaps, arise, who will endeavor, at least, to marshal and lead them to conquest. But this is all speculation. I sat down to try and give you facts. I will remark, however, that if Brigham Young wants more converts, here is his field with this people, to whom polygamy is native. I wish he would lead them beyond the Caribbean Sea. They have expected that the Government would give them land here, taking it away from the rebel owners. The officers of the Bureau have labored diligently to disabuse their minds of this error, but with little success. All have told them in speeches, plainly, what their position is, and of all they said, when the speaker had finished—General Howard as well as others—"Dat no Yank; dat just some reb dressed up in blue clothes and brought um here to lie to us." Those who are convinced they will not have land for their own insist they must have it as tenants, to be furnished with teams and all necessary appliances, and food to live upon, and then give a very small allowance to the owners. There is universal demand for labor at fair prices—large prices, indeed, considering what this poor soil produces, and what the labor is likely to be; and I made every effort I knew how to induce the negroes to hire for next year. Being a farmer myself, I think I know what is a fair bargain. I do not think fifty had hired in my former district when I left it, two weeks ago. They are offered cash wages and shares in the crops. If they make a bargain, as some will for a short time, the chances are five to one that they will not adhere to it. They are offered better shares of the crops than us farmers ever give in Illinois. Meanwhile they are stealing enormously. I know many plantations in Warren and Franklin, where three-quarters of the hogs and sheep have been stolen since last June, and the depletion is still going on. Cattle are also killed, but not in such numbers. I doubt if a year hence there will be half hogs enough to make meat for the people. It is very difficult to procure testimony from one negro against another for theft. They seem to consider that a proper spoil of the Egyptians. I don't know how they can be prevented from stealing to such a degree as to make it a serious matter with the planters. They are very distrustful of the white people of this region, but manifest more confidence in "Yankees," and are more ready to hire to them. They are as improvident as children. Drunkenness is, of course, increasing among them, and they are more addicted to it than I had supposed. You know what their domestic relations usually are. The idea of freedom, of many, is not to work—or only for themselves directly. The word "overseer" is now tabood on the plantations. It must hereafter, when one is tolerated, be superintendent. Now, what is to be done with this ignorant, degraded element, which may, if not wisely controlled, push back, if it does not overwhelm, civilization here at the South? While elevated and enlightened by all available means, it must, at the same time, be held in check in its evil tendencies by sternly repressive laws. The criminal must be punished; the idle must be forced to work. The children, homeless and deserted, or of parents unfit guardians for them, as most are, should be apprenticed. The men should be forced to enter into contracts, and to abide by them. All this may not be very democratic, but I think it is better under the circumstances. These people must be allowed their civil rights; to sue and be sued, and to testify in courts; but nineteen in twenty are no more fit for the political responsibilities and duties of citizens of a citizen than my horses. I wish Charles Sumner would come down here and occupy a position like mine for a while. He should say nothing more against slavery, if he thinks it a fit school in which to educate savages, in two or three generations, of the lowest human race too, to discharge wisely and well the responsibilities of a citizen in a government which can only exist upon a basis of intelligence and virtue. He should think most worthily of slavery to justify his present course—or much worse of it, and then act more wisely.

I think the disposition of the people here towards the Government is misunderstood and misjudged at the North. I have not met a Northern man who was not satisfied with Worth for Governor as a Union man.

* * * * * * *

Mr. Worth, of a Quaker family, had always been in principle opposed to slavery. He was one of three in the State Legislature who opposed and voted against calling the convention to pass the ordinance of secession. He refused an election to the convention itself. He opposed secession as far as he could. * *

The people here loyally sustained their bad cause. When it fell I think they honestly and in good faith gave it up and accepted the result. It wounds their pride deeply that at the North they are considered incapable of good faith. Nor do I wonder at it, nor am I without sympathy for them. I would trust them a hundred times over to sit in Congress and legislate for our whole country before I would such men as the * * * and men of that stripe, who would have assassinated our country as Booth did Mr. Lincoln if they could, instead of meeting us in fair and manly fight as these men did. These men were the victims of a political heresy, in which they had been educated by such men as * * *. They have given it up.—They were true to a bad cause; I believe they will be so to a good one.

In case you feel bound to read thus far * * accept my apology for such an unintended intrusion on your time and patience. * * * If you think this would have any interest to any one else, I of course don't care who sees it, as I think it is the truth, and needs to be told.

Very respectfully,
H. C. LAWRENCE,
Brevet Major, A. Q. M., U. S. Vols.

TO OUR FRIENDS.

WE STILL CONTINUE TO SELL BOOKS AND Stationery, and all other goods in our line. We cannot sell at cost. If we do so, we shall soon be unable to buy other Goods. We have been trading in our line for several years. Our friends have always patronized us largely, for which we are thankful. We have always tried to make a living profit on our Goods, and at the same time to give general satisfaction to our customers. We intend still to follow the same rule, which we think fair and honorable. Such books as we do not have on hand we will order for our friends.

Among our late arrivals we have Methodist Hymn Books, Episcopal Prayer Books, Illustrated Children's Books in great variety, Photographs of Southern Generals, and Photograph Albums.

We have also a great variety of Common and Fine Bibles and Testaments. Also a large variety of Sheet Music.

We try to keep all School Books wanted by Teachers, to whom we sell at a liberal discount.

Call and examine our stock before buying elsewhere.

We are prepared to do the best BOOK BINDING in the neatest style at short notice.

We want to trade with our friends for years to come, hence we will sell as cheap as we can under the circumstances.
